Note for Parents

How to use the chart

- Print the pages you need. Pages 2–3 are the 30 deeds, page 4 is a one-page chart for the fridge, page 5 is blank for deeds your child makes up.
- Pick the deed with your child in the morning, or let them choose a few days ahead. Do it together the first time.
- The deeds are small on purpose: five minutes or less, no money needed, fine for ages 4 to 10. Swap any that do not fit your family.
- Praise the effort and the kindness, not the circle. A missed day is fine; keep going.
- Ramadan lasts 29 or 30 days depending on the moon, so if your month has 29 days, simply leave Day 30 blank.
- The chart works whether or not your child is fasting yet.

Two sayings behind the chart

- The Prophet ﷺ taught that a smile at your brother is charity (Jami' at-Tirmidhi 1956), and that a good word is charity (Sahih al-Bukhari 2989, Sahih Muslim 1009).

Ink-saving version

The ink-saving file has the same pages in black and white with almost no color.

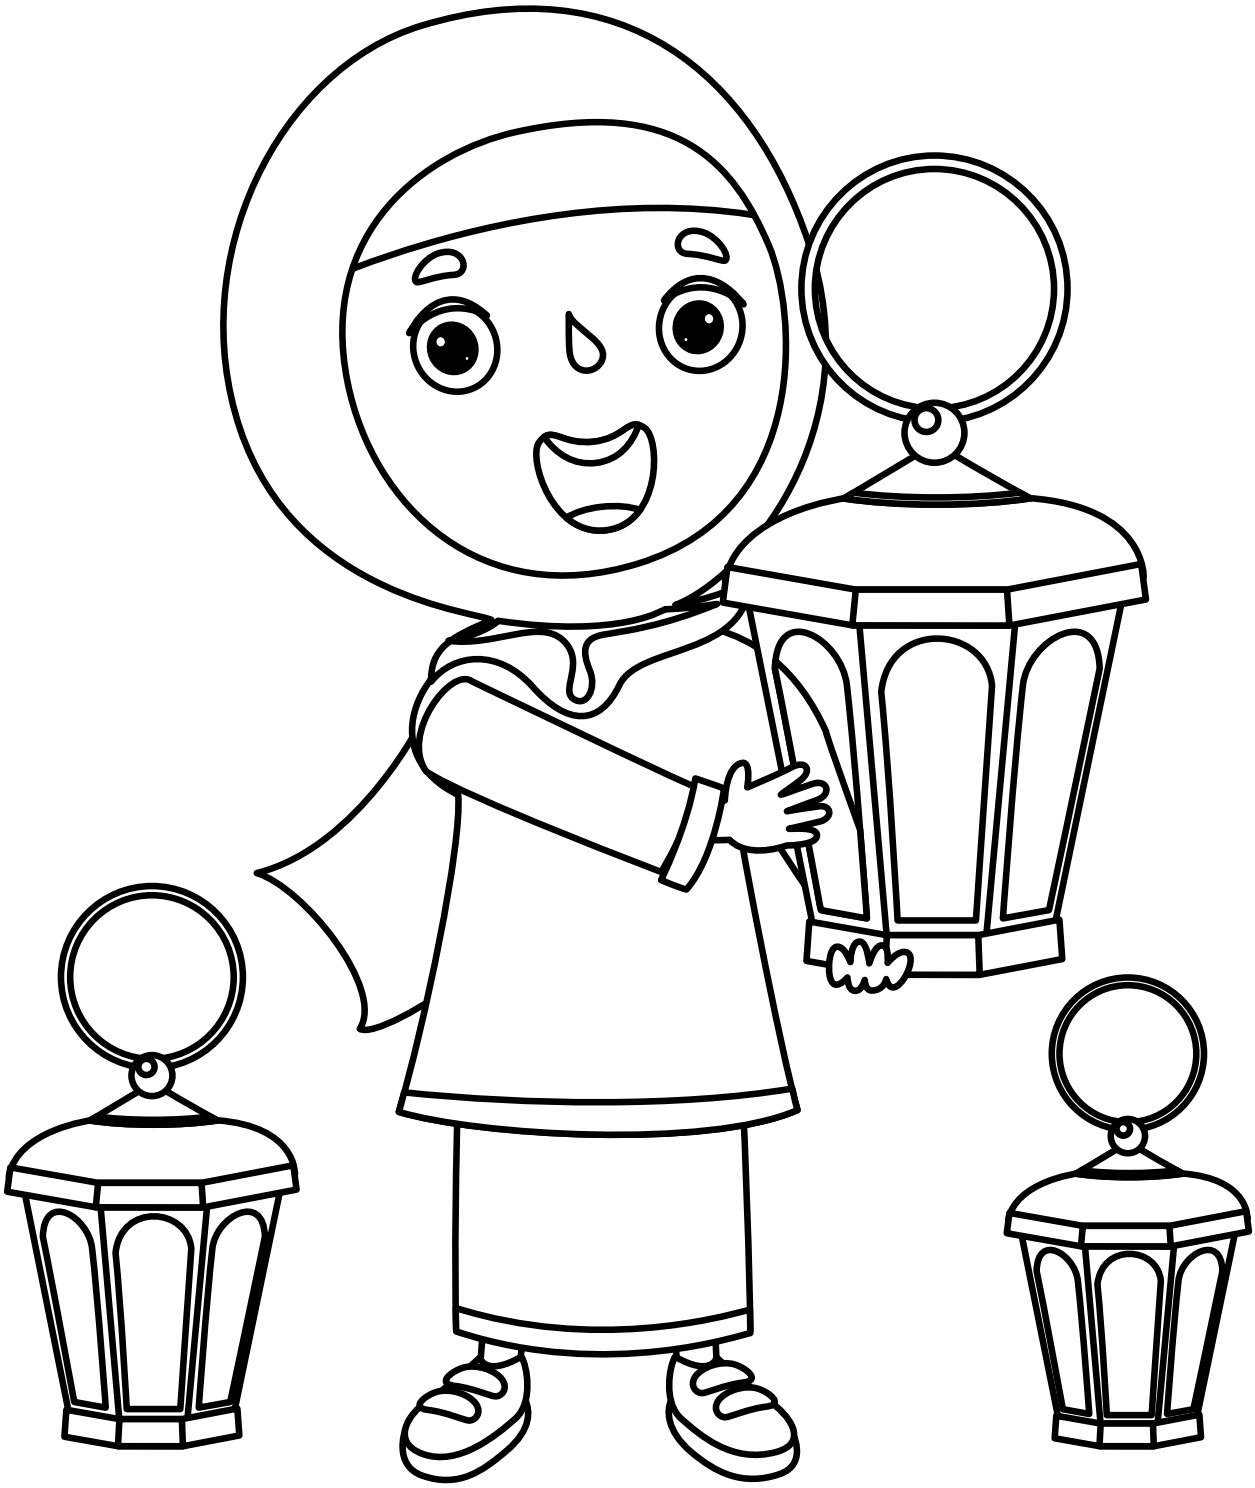

Dates

Ramadan 1448 is expected to begin around 8 February 2027. It may shift by a day depending on the moon sighting where you live, so check with your local mosque.
